MR. TILDEN'S "NO!"

The Ex-Governor Visited by Pacific Coast Democrats.

He is Not a Candidate and Does Not Care to Name His Choice for the Presidency --Mr. Hendricks Calls on Mr. Tilden.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

New York, April 15.—Congressman James A. Budd, Barclay Henley, Patrick H. Sully, Charles A. Sumner and John H. Glasscock, all of California, George W. Cassidy of Nevada and M. E. Post of Wyoming, paid a visit to Mr. Samuel J. Tilden yesterday morning at his residence at Gramercy Park. The gentlemen had come on purpose from Washington to obtain a definite answer from Mr. Tilden as to whether he would consent to become a candidate for the Presidential nomination.

The delegation reached the residence at 10 o'clock, and were very cordially received by the distinguished Democratic statesman.

"Mr. Tilden," said the spokesman of the party, "we have called to see you in behalf of the Democrats of the Pacific Slope to inquire whether you are willing that your name should be brought before the National Convention as a candidate for the Presidency of the United States."

To this it was said Mr. Tilden answered with a decided "no."

"If you are not willing to be a candidate yourself," continued the spokesman, "is there any other Democrat who you would prefer should be nominated?"

"I am no candidate myself," replied Mr. Tilden, "and I have no candidate to propose."

"Will you make your wishes in this respect officially known?"

"I intend to do so in the form of a letter," I cannot say at present to whom that letter will be addressed."

The delegation were shown through the elegant apartments in the Gramercy Park residence, and remained there until about twenty minutes. They then withdrew as

EX-SENATOR, and Congressman Lamb of Indiana were announced. During the afternoon the delegation of Pacific Coast statesmen visited the residence of Mr. Tilden. Mr. Tilden was subsequently seen by a reporter, and, in answer to a question as to Mr. Tilden's attitude toward the nomination, he said: "I am not a candidate, and I do not intend to be."

"I cannot answer for Mr. Tilden. He did not speak to me about the subject, and I did not ask him. I saw him, after his visit, and he addressed a meeting in Council Bluffs. During the course of the speech he said that it was his impression that Mr. Tilden preferred private life to public station."

"If Mr. Tilden should decline the nomination would you be candidate for the first place on the ticket?"

"Under no circumstances am I a candidate, and I will not be in any event."

Mr. Flower was seen at a late hour last evening at his residence. He was seen by a reporter, and, in answer to a question as to whether he would be a candidate, he said: "I am not a candidate, and I do not intend to be."

do not do that for the country, he says, and "maliciously" kept the gas burning in one of the rooms after midnight. Two weeks before he was seen he began going to her room about 1 o'clock in the morning, knocking on her door, and asking her to please put out the gas that she was maliciously wasting. Once, the boy said, he made a racket by stamping in the entry way, and on another occasion he blew a horn. On the night of the shooting witness saw by a gleam of light under the door that the gas was burning. He knocked three times without getting any response. A fourth time he tried it. The door suddenly opened, and the Countess, with a revolver in her hand, came out rather quickly and said: "What right have you to knock at my door? Have I not warned you to keep off my premises?"

"Have I not told you not to waste my aunt's gas?" answered the boy.

The Countess raised her revolver and fired. The boy got a bullet in the shoulder. He ran down stairs and remained there until a police officer came. While below he heard three more shots. Dr. Griggs, of the hospital, who attended the boy, testified that the wound would have become serious if it had not been promptly looked after. Counsel for the Countess said that it would be shown that her lessee gave her the right to use the gas in her rooms as much as she pleased. The trial will be resumed to-day.

A CARONDELET COMMITTEE
Asks the Board of Public Improvements for More Water Pipe.

A committee representing the citizens of Carondelet waited on the Board of Public Improvements this morning after the regular meeting of that body. The committee was composed of Messrs. F. W. Mott, John Krause, president of Carondelet Insurance Company and Klansman Brewing Company, C. P. Chouteau, R. J. Klansman, Daniel Pauley, Jr., D. J. O'Reilly and P. J. Egan.

Mr. F. W. Mott introduced them, saying that they would ask that Carondelet be given more water pipes and fire plugs. He said that there had been no building done in Carondelet in the past year than in the previous five years. He said also that there was a large number of people in Carondelet, who would become water consumers if they had the facilities in the way of water pipes.

Krause said there was no water on Robert avenue at all. He had a $40,000 risk there, and if a fire should break out there, there would be no means of extinguishing it. He thought a pipe should be run up there from Fourth street.

Mr. Mott said that the city had not the necessary funds to make such improvements. The committee said that they would ask that the Board of Public Improvements be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the purpose of making such improvements.

SMALL ST. LOUIS have rapid transit? Not if the city council can prevent it.THE LOGAN boom will probably be licked into shape at Peoria to-morrow, and then it will be as big as it will ever be.JAY GOULD has again come to the rescue of the country by strengthening the Wabash system. He has made his boy GEORGE a director.Now some misguided Eastern capitalists propose to furnish St. Louis with a cable road. In such an emergency, St. Louis can always rely on her devoted Municipal Assembly to keep them out of town.We fail to detect any evidence that the people of this country are excited over the tariff bill which is to come up to-day. It takes something like a contest for justice of the peace to enkindle the fire of patriotism on the heart of the citizen.The movement to put FREMONT on the retired list will probably share the fate of the attempt to pension THOMAS JEFFERSON's grand daughter. A Democratic majority in Congress is not good for much, but it can occasionally prevent trifling legislative errors.The suicide of MR. JOSEPH AGATE, a man worth $50,000, follows closely upon the suicide of MR. AMASA STONE, the Cleveland millionaire. It is very discouraging thing to an ambitious man who has passed nearly all his allotted span of life in accumulating five or six millions to compare that pitiful sum with the colossal fortunes of the more fortunate ASTORS, VANDER-BILTS and GOULDS.The people of Cincinnati report themselves as being greatly soothed and calmed by the charge of Judge AVERY, which has been as a bottle of oil poured out on the waves of an Atlantic storm. The charge to the Grand Jury consists in telling them that it is their duty to punish all the crime of the past and to prevent all crime in the future.
The report of the Grand Jury will naturally say that if the people would only listen to their recommendations all crime would forthwith disappear.The London Times says that threats made in this country have been executed in England, and that our police could not now if they wanted to. In the same breath the Times declares that recent arrests of alleged dynam-iters will bring out information as to whether the conspiracy was hatched in France or America. Well, when England is herself waiting for evidence on that point, and can neither name nor locate the guilty, what else can she expect us to do but wait for some evidence against the alleged dynam-iters in this country?The Treasury Department is not acting honestly with the tax-payers who are entitled to the rebate of tobacco taxes. The money they paid for these taxes does not belong to the Government; it belongs to them; they have a right to receive it at once. But the Government withholds the money, has withheld it for a year and is now going through the cases with a leisurely slowness which will require four years more before all the cases are disposed of. Such dishonesty is contemptible.In answer to numerous and repeated requests for information as to the date of the next civil service examination at St. Louis, we have the melancholy pleasure of saying that there was such an examination last August; that several candidates passed the examination in a most satisfactory manner; that they were told to go home and wait, and when this beautiful Government of ours wanted them it would send for them. They are still waiting. The Government has not sent for them. They cry aloud that this great reform is a great fraud; that if theGovernment never expected to have any candidates it should not have held out induc-ments. Our advice to people who meditate engaging in the profession of office-seeking is, "Don't."

SHOWING THEIR HANDS.

The public has been waiting for the new House Committee on Pacific Railroads to give some indication of its leanings. All curiously on that point will probably soon be satisfied, as a majority and a minority report from the sub-committee of three on amendments of the Thurman act are now before the whole committee for action.The minority report of Mr. Thompson of Kentucky, takes the bull by the horns, showing that the roads will still owe $102,000,000 when their bonds become due under the operations of the Thurman act, as evaded by the roads which manage to conceal their net earnings in extensions and betterments.
Mr. Thompson's bill defines what shall constitute net earnings, allowing no deduction for equipments or new branches, and provides that the Central Pacific shall pay $2,000,000 a year and 55 per cent of its net earnings; the Union Pacific $2,000,000 a year and 37½ per cent; the Kansas Pacific, $300,000 a year and 45 per cent, and the Central Branch and Sioux City each $150,000 a year and 75 per cent. Thompson's bill also proposes that, in computing the net earnings of these roads, their share of the earnings of all the roads owned, operated, controlled or leased by them shall be included. The justice of this provision rests upon the fact that the many millions of dollars which these roads should have paid to the Government to meet the interest on the bonds loaned to them have been invested in new roads upon which the Government has no lien for its loan. In short Mr. THOMP-SON seems to be in earnest about securing the payment of the loan according to contract, holding that the roads are abundantly able to make such provisions for the payment of the bonds and interest.The majority report, however, signed by WILSON of Iowa and JORDAN of Ohio, proposes to avoid the alleged danger of further litigation and delay by maintaining the Thurman act pretty much as it is, and leaving the question of deducting expenditures for equipments and new roads from the net earnings to the courts. The bill reported by the majority provides only for the withholding of amounts due for Government transportation and the investment thereof in a sinking fund. They express the opinion that the Government will sooner or later have to accept the railroad proposition for a sixty-year extension of the loan with semi-annual payments for the gradual extinction of the debt. They object to Thompson's bill on the ground that it would deprive the companies of the power to construct "feeders and branch roads for the development of the country."Will the full committee approve this doctrine, that Congress should permit these corporations to convert money due the Government into private property, and fraudulently use nearly $100,000,000 of the people's money for an indefinite period in extending and strengthening the mightiest monopoly that ever existed in this world? We shall see. There are a great many people who believe that, if this is the only way to develop this country, it had better remain undeveloped.

MAKING MONEY CIRCULATE.

Congressman STOCKLACHER, Chairman of the Committee on Public Buildings, has discovered a great public service which these classic granite mausoleums render to the country. He says, with a charming ignorance of the existence of such a science as political economy, that these buildings "put that much money in circulation."That is just what they do not do. They take that much money out of circulation.
The six million dollar buildings in St. Louis or in Chicago, where a million dollar building would have done as well, represent each five million dollars taken out of circulation and irretrievably sunk and lost. If the money had been left in the pockets of the people, where it belongs—if its owners had been allowed to use it they would have used it where it would constantly increase, not where it is lost forever.One of the first principles of practical political economy, one which needs to be understood and applied by every citizen, is that the millions that are raised by taxation and spent in needless expenses are not thereby "put into circulation;" they are sunk, wasted, destroyed, annihilated.Every dollar of superfluous revenue spent for unnecessary objects is a dollar lost. The country and the people are just that much poorer. The party which some years ago advanced the theory that a national debt was a national blessing, should be allowed the exclusive monopoly of the absurdity of asserting that the people get rich by the money which the Government takes from them to waste in needless expenditures.

LOGAN AND LINCOLN.

Not content with running the LOGAN boom, the friends of LOGAN propose to take charge of Secretary LINCOLN's campaign interests also. He has not asked them to interfere, he has attended strictly to the duties of his office, but they have the incredible impudence to put forward a demand that he shall either come on the track or stay off.They have mistaken their man. Mr. LIN-COLN is not under any obligations to Mr.
LOGAN, or to any of LOGAN's workers; above all, he is not under any obligation to make himself ridiculous. Any man looks more or less ridiculous who puts himself in the attitude of declining something that nobody offered him, and Mr. LINCOLN is the last man who is likely to put himself in such a position.Instead of trying to side-track this formidable adversary by so cheap and silly an argument as that he is not a candidate, it will betempt it would be better for LOGAN to imitate his dignified and manly course. The principal difference between LOGAN and LINCOLN is that one is painfully seeking the office while the other allows the office to seek him. If it could dawn on the mind of LOGAN that the latter was the better way it would not injure his chances and it would make him less offensive to a disgusted public.

THE CABLE PROJECT.

At the last session of the Municipal Assembly a proposition to build a cable road was defeated. Although such an assertion is not susceptible of direct proof, we risk little in asserting that the defeat was really caused by the opposition of rival interests.
The alleged reason given was that the proposed cable was not acceptable to people living along the line.Now we have a new proposition from a new company. A number of gentlemen, who are prepared to give every reasonable guarantee of their ability to carry on the work, wish to build a cable road from Grand avenue to Fourth street. To forestall any possible objections to any location, they say that they will accept any route that is granted them.Now let us see what the Municipal Assembly will do. It may do one of two things.
It may heartily and honestly lend its aid to secure for St. Louis the great and needed advantages of a cable road, or it may, with shuffling and quibbling and equivocation, defeat the project, and hand the city over indefinitely to the tender mercies of the bottled magistrates and sneeze-up directors.
If it should unwisely and unfortunately choose the latter course, the people will not be slow to understand the influences which guided their actions.SENATORS in this country are supposed to be composed of grave, more conservative and more select specimens of statesmanship than the more numerous branches of our legislature, because they are usually elected for longer terms and represent larger areas or populations. But the Senators—State and National—are beginning to be generally regarded as the weak point in our system in every conflict between the general welfare and the legislative jobs of the plutocrats.
A small body has but few mouths to feed, and can be controlled with a much smaller outlay than is required in a larger body. The antimonopoly bill passed almost unanimously by the Lower House of the California Legislature now in session, are threatened with defeat in the Senate by a combination of Democrats and Republicans, and the Democratic clubs in San Francisco are passing resolutions declaring that several Democratic Senators elected as anti-monopolists have betrayed their party, broken their pledges to their constituents, and sold themselves for money to the corporations. A contest between the Standard Oil monopoly and their opponents over a pipe-line bill almost produced a riot in the Ohio State Senate the other day, and the indications that the monopolists are getting their clutches on Democrats as well as Republicans "influence" are multiplying all over the country.

THE METROPOLITAN PRESS.

What the Editors of the New York Journals
Are Saying To-Day.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 15.—THE WORLD says: "Our diplomatic and consular service is suffering from a small epidemic of misfortune. The death of Minister Hunt was followed by the sudden demise of the Consul at Manheim. The Consul to Cuba has fallen into a financial difficulty, and the Minister to Mexico has been obliged to resign. The service is further smitten by the resignation of A.
A. Sargent."THE TRIBUNE says: "The convention which meets at Harrisburg to-morrow derives its chief importance from its furnishing an expression of opinion by the Republicans of Pennsylvania as to the choice of a Presidential candidate, a Congressman at large, and a Senator at large, and if the Democrats have done their duty in the Legislature in passing justly upon the bill for the election of a Congressman at large to be chosen. To-morrow's convention will afford a striking contrast to the one that met in the same place in 1882. That was called on short notice, early in February, for the purpose of registering the will of one man. Nearly all the delegates to that convention were appointed by self-perpetuating county committees.
To-morrow's convention will meet after sixty days' notice has been given. The delegates chosen by the people and 250 of those delegates are called on to register the will of the people. In 1882 they were called on to register the will of one man.
That is a very significant fact, considering that Mr. Blaine is merely a private citizen without any patronage and is opposed by the machine that so long has ruled Pennsylvania."THE TIMES says: "If the special Grand Jury in Cincinnati is to show in its report whether or not members of the Bremer jury were bribed, it is probable that the grand jury will be called on to point out the men who fired the Court House, and to say whether or not life was unlawfully taken, and to go no further, its work will not make great additions to the store of information already in the possession of the people. Even if it should be proved that Bremer suffered by means Sollicitous Applicants for Base-Ball Positions.

Games Yesterday—The St. Louis Reserves Again Beaten—Diamond Chips, Sporting Gossip and Sundries.

Before the men were all engaged for the St. Louis Regulars and Reserves, President Von der Ahe received some very unique and to say the least, interesting communications. One applicant got a friend to write for him, being too modest to speak of his own great merits which incorporated a batting ability superior to Brothers; a talent to stand behind the bat which was not excelled by that of Flint and a clipping style in running bases, to which Gore could not be quoted as a circumstance. Von der Ahe replied that in that case he could not decline to come and give a specimen of his ability gratis, and in case he fulfilled his promise he would salary him at $2,500. He never came. A few days ago a communication was received by a director of the St. Louis Club, which was written in a large, dashing hand, and of which the following is a literal copy—leaving out names and addresses:
 DEAR SIR—Agreeably to your request, I hereby make formal application for engagement as one of the players of your club, coming season. While I am not a professional player, yet I have played with several clubs and have sufficient knowledge of the requirements for a good professional to say that I believe I can do as well as the average player. My terms are:
 THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS salary with the other emoluments of the club—the privilege of playing a substitute, who I will provide when out of good condition myself, the substitute to be named by the manager, and transportation. This may appear an extravagant proposition to you, but from my point of view it is not. I claim that when a player has been engaged I will have above the average record and will be able to claim the nine if necessary. In addition leading the name of a captain in the regular army to your nine will undoubtedly draw more than the amount of salary asked in game money and add greatly to the prestige of the nine. Also, as I am a very enthusiastic player, my presence with the nine cannot fail to produce good results. I have yet a score of 17 to 0, with which I have played, and to inspire them to unusual efforts and success. I fully made captain of the nine, doubtless my experience in the control and discipline of men in the army will prove greatly beneficial to the management of the nine. I might say a great deal more, but will only add that I am a fair and just business proposition. I need money badly, and I would not propose to enter the ball-field, but with knowledge, energy to do anything that I believed I could not succeed in doing. Hoping you will give this matter immediate attention and inform me as soon as possible of the result, I have the honor to be, sir, Yours very truly,
 "Captain United States Army."

Returned to Committee on Ways and Means. The officer of the club are in constant receipt of applications of that nature, but for sweet and fragrant breeziness the above is entitled to all the honors.

Games Yesterday. The day was cool one for the American Association teams. With two exceptions, the Grand Rapids turning the tables on the Louisville, beating them by a score of 9 to 1, and the Philadelphia knocking the Athletics by a score of 17 to 0. The Baltimore beat the Detroit by a score of 10 to 2. The Brooklyn beat the Cleveland by a score of 10 to 4, and the New York triumphed over the New York by a score of 9 to 7. At Columbus, the Saginaw, who, since the season of the Toledo, hold the championship of the Northwestern League, were beaten by the Columbus by a score of 3 to 2. Carroll of Columbus won by making a clean home run.

Local Base-Ball. The St. Louis Browns were photographed yesterday in a handsome group. Steve has been called home to Cincinnati by the serious illness of his mother. The wet weather continues and makes it look very dubious for base-ball operations for a few days.

The St. Louis Browns and Minneapolis met this afternoon. To-morrow the same clubs have another tilt at sportsman's Park.

Little Wagner made some brilliant catches in the out field at Indianapolis yesterday, carrying off the few honors the reserves carried. Krehmeyer caught well, however.

The St. Louis Reserves got another bad beating at Indianapolis yesterday, the score being exactly the same as marked the Athletic defeat by the Philadelphia—17 to 0. The Hoosiers made 24 hits off Hughes.

Louisville Jockey Club. The programme for the spring meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club has been issued, and it promises a most excellent meeting, which will begin on Friday, May 16, and continue daily (Sundays excepted) until Wednesday, May 28, which will make eleven days' racing, with a total of forty-four races, for which $25,500 will be given in added money and purses.

The Minneapolis Team. The Minneapolis Base-Ball Club arrived in town this morning from Evansville, Ind., and are stopping at the Lindell. Manager Benjamin Tullih was seen this morning shortly after his arrival and he had a pleasant chat with the Post-Dispatch reporter. "How many men have you with you?" was asked. "Fifteen, twelve of them being regulars, and three substitutes, to whom I am giving a trial. We have a bonanza in two of the best pitchers in the country. I think," said the manager, "Fred Nichols of the St. Louis Browns and Harry McCormick of last year's Cincinnati. They are both playing great ball, and will aid us greatly in our chances for the Northwestern League championship, which, by the way, I think, are Minneapolis."

"Who are interested in your club in Evansville?" "Well, the greater portion of the stock is held by the big mill millionaires, the Washburns, Pillsbury and Greenleafs. The auditor of the St. Louis and Minneapolis Railroad is treasurer of the club. Let me tell you one thing, we have a daisy catcher in young Miller of Cleveland, who is doing immense work as a back stop. I think he is a second Dwyer or Bennett." "How many games have you played this far?" "Four, and we won three of them."

Sporting Sundries. It is proposed to hold a professional jockey race near Cairo, Mo., on the 24th of July. Hamlin, Towner, Bonney, Hines, and others, will be invited to compete for the cash prizes, which will, it is said, be worth going for.

Ross is partially disabled on account of his wrenched rib and the hurt which McLaughlin gave him in securing the winning fall in Thursday's Detroit match. He says McLaughlin clearly used unfair means in breaking his brace; but he is satisfied, and his offer to again meet McLaughlin in without jackets has been declined by the latter. The match did not affect the championship which Ross holds. Catch-as-catch-can wrestling is a 3 money fight, and only arranged to suit McLaughlin's wishes.

Wallace Ross returned from England last week in the steamer Alaska, which made the passage in seven days, twelve hours and twenty-three minutes. He appeared to be in good health and expressed himself highly pleased with his trip. Ross will not return to Pittsburgh at present, but will soon begin training in this vicinity for his race with Charles Courtney, which takes place at Oak Point on Decoration Day, May 30. Ross' headquarters are at the "Golden Oak," Harlem.

The international police tug-of-war between Buffalo and Toronto was recently decided at the Grand Opera House in the latter city. The teams were made up as follows: Buffalo—McKeegan, 225 lbs.; T. O'Leary, 190 lbs.; J. H. Bell, 230 lbs.; D. McCreary, 200 lbs.; J. Reid, 180 lbs.; J. Sturmont, 200 lbs. The winning was 2 to 1 on the Toronto team. Toronto gave up the first pull in less than three minutes, and in the second and last attempt made a longer but equally unsuccessful effort to get the rope.

Henry Peterson left San Francisco for the East on Saturday, March 25. He is to have a series of races with relatives in Ohio for a short time, and then was destined for Brooklyn, N. Y. His Peterson's intention, to spend the summer East, and take part in the professional regatta, says W. Lee, who was recently defeated by Peterson, who was a California sculler will not take a place in any of our regattas. George's prediction conveys the impression that all was not right, as far as it was concerned, in the recent match with Peterson. Or does Lee believe that he himself will be unable to secure a place in home events? At any rate California athletes regard Peterson as a man.

The Call says: "Peterson is scarcely out of his teens yet, and has not yet experienced the knowledge possessed by the sculler whom he so easily defeated, but the time may not be far off when he will be called on to meet some of the scullers with more care than the Eastern scullers and Mr. Lee have yet been able to."

The Union. The Elks' Club, through Mr. Charles Ware, have tendered the St. Louis Union Association the use of their Tally Ho coach for Saturday next, and it will be employed to carry the Chicago Union to the Union grounds, where the opening championship game of the season is to be played. All that can be done to make the occasion a pleasant one to the ladies is now being carried out. The Arsenal Band has been engaged, and will render choice airs during the afternoon. A large portion of the grand stand will be reserved for ladies, and the other objectionable features are to be eliminated from this position. The folding seats for the grand stand are being put in place daily, and will be in position by Saturday afternoon. The Union will present the strongest team they have yet put in the field, with Hooper of Baltimore umpiring. The St. Louis boys will wear their regular uniforms, while the Chicago will come out in suits consisting of maroon caps, belts and stockings and white flannel trousers. Two other uniformed teams were perhaps never before seen on the field.

Diamond Chips. The Indianapolis authorities have decided against Sunday games.

Jack Sneed, who went to Indianapolis a few days ago, has signed there.

The Lucas Reserves did not show up in Cincinnati on Sunday as was arranged, and a game between the Union Reserves and the Avenues resulted in a victory for the latter.

When the good "Deacon" White, of the Buffalo club, read the resolutions adopted by the Harvard faculty, it is said he arose to his full height and vehemently declared that he, a professional ball player, and a deacon at that, never contemplated the morals of any student from Harvard or any other college.

The Nationals of Washington propose during the coming season to advertise their games through the newspapers, and by means of moving-lanterns and posters. Manager Moxley of the American Association controls the bill-board privilege, and the Union do not propose to give him their patronage. The Nationals have a lively and exciting contest for the supremacy between the two local organizations, and both will succeed on the principle that all is fair in war.

For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, there is no more reliable and effective remedy than the "Perro-Phosphated Bilex of Calais," made by CASWELL, HAZARD & CO., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic; and for patients recovering from Fever or other sickness, it has no equal.
